O is for Olympics

by Ned Elliott and Zack McLaughlin

The perfect accompaniment to the Olympics for children, this A to Z brings to life the epic feats and outrageous cheats that have helped make the greatest sporting event ever.

From a heroic marathon runner in 490BC to one who sneaked a lift in 1904, O is for Olympics is packed full of fascinating facts that will interest adults as well as kids.

A great companion volume to this is L is for London by Harriet Rowe full of fun and quirky facts about London - from daredevil double deckers leaping over Tower Bridge to drunken barristers unable to stand up to toast the King.

Published in hardback by Hogs Back Books Ltd, these pocket A to Zs are each priced at £6.99.
